Val de Loire
FRANCE

Two centuries after having opened to the public, Chambord remains one of the most awe-inspiring Renaissance constructions, arousing admiration and fascination throughout the world. Far from serving as a residential palace or a mere hunting lodge, the chateau is a stupendous work of art; imagined by King François I and inspired by Leonardo da Vinci, it has yet to divulge its innermost secrets.

Girded by a 32-kilometer (20-mile) enclosure wall, its 5440-hectare (13400-acre) park contains seemingly innumerable hidden pathways, pristine landscapes, and an exceptionally wide-ranging array of fauna and flora.

Whether you are searching for nature, culture, local products or recreational facilities, Chambord offers a multitude of activities in the chateau or the open air, to be enjoyed in a group, as a family or with friends, unaccompanied or escorted by an enthusiastic guide. Not to mention a copious program of cultural events that punctuates the seasons...

- Registered since 1981 as a UNESCO world heritage site

CHAMBORD WINE

Just two kilometers (a little more than one mile) from the chateau, fourteen hectares (35 acres) of organic vines have been planted. Chambord has reconnected with its 18th-century wine-growing tradition, fermenting its own wine by means of eco-certified agriculture, without cultivated yeast. The grapes are hand-harvested. Three wines are being produced: two whites (Romorantin and Sauvignon varieties) and one Cheverny red (Pinot noir and Gamay). They are on sale at the two gift shops and the snack and catering areas of the chateau.
