Wine and terroir of the Loire Valley in a privatized room of the chateau

In collaboration with the Wine House at Chambord, participants are introduced to the diversity of the vineyard and the richness of the terroir through the discovery of 3 wines from the AOC of Cheverny and Cour-Cheverny.

New this year: Chambord AOC Cheverny red wine to be tasted!

The AOC Cour-Cheverny is produced from a single variety the "Romorantin", introduced in the Loire Valley by François I and planted about thirty kilometers from Chambord, near the chateau of Romorantin. These wines will no longer have secrets for the group.

The Loire Valley is the 3rd largest appellation region in France, with a total of 85 appellations and denominations. The area has been awarded UNESCO World Heritage status – one of only ten European winegrowing regions distinguished in this way.
