Two centuries after having opened to the public, Chambord remains one of the most awe-inspiring Renaissance constructions, arousing admiration and fascination throughout the world. Far from serving as a residential palace or a mere hunting lodge, the chateau is a stupendous work of art; imagined by King François I and inspired by Leonardo da Vinci, it has yet to divulge its innermost secrets.

Girded by a 32-kilometer (20-mile) enclosure wall, its 5440-hectare (13400-acre) park contains seemingly innumerable hidden pathways, pristine landscapes, and an exceptionally wide-ranging array of fauna and flora.

Whether you are searching for nature, culture, local products or recreational facilities, Chambord offers a multitude of activities in the chateau or the open air, to be enjoyed in a group, as a family or with friends, unaccompanied or escorted by an enthusiastic guide. Not to mention a copious program of cultural events that punctuates the seasons...

- Registered since 1981 as a UNESCO world heritage site
- Under two hours south of Paris
- Open all year round*, 7 days a week
- A collection of about 4 500 works and art pieces
- Panoramic terraces
- The largest wall-enclosed park in Europe
- Food-producing and ornamental gardens: organic vegetable, French-style and English gardens
- Horse and bird of prey show

 Except on January 1, the last Monday of November and December 25.*

CHAMBORD WINE

Just two kilometers (a little more than one mile) from the chateau, fourteen hectares (35 acres) of organic vines have been planted. Chambord has reconnected with its 18th-century wine-growing tradition, fermenting its own wine by means of eco-certified agriculture, without cultivated yeast. The grapes are hand-harvested. Three wines are being produced: two whites (Romorantin and Sauvignon varietals) and one Cheverny red (Pinot noir and Gamay). They are on sale at the two gift shops and the snack and catering areas of the chateau.
